WE ARE HIRING

The Queen's Own Rifles of Canada — Canada's only Army Reserve Regiment with a parachute task — is growing.

Get paid to challenge yourself on evenings and weekends. Enjoy guaranteed full-time summer employment for the first four years after joining.

Physically fit. Tactically competent. Regimentally sound. That's our motto. Our Regiment attracts adventurous Canadians from all walks of life.

Applicants must be Canadian citizens 16 years and older, with a minimum of a Grade 10 education.

Training

Upon enrollment, you will have to complete introductory military training courses.

First, you will complete your basic military qualification course, full or part-time, most likely based somewhere in or near Toronto. Next, you will travel to a more remote location to complete your infantry speciality training.

If you make it, you will be eligible for advanced training which includes parachuting, mountain operations, reconnaissance and more.

Are YOU up to the challenge?

Regimental Life

We are Toronto based citizen soldiers.

As Army Reservists, we have families, full-time careers, and enjoy a dynamic and flexible relationship with the Canadian Armed Forces.

Typically, we train one night a week, and one weekend a month. We retain the option to serve full-time, whenever our country needs us to. In exchange for this freedom of choice, whenever we train, we earn 85% of Regular Force pay rates, can access an adjusted benefits package, and can qualify to contribute to a pension plan.

We pride ourselves on our respect for fundamental Canadian values and our unquenchable thirst for challenge.

If you think you have what it takes to join our regimental family, check out our website, and send an email to our recruiting team.
