SUSK Holodomor Commemorations 2015

Every November, Ukrainians around the world commemorate the Holodomor, perpetrated by Stalin's Communist regime against the Ukrainian nation. The Holodomor involved the extermination of millions of Ukrainian farmers in 1932-1933. Because most victims died from state organized famine, Ukrainians call the crime the Holodomor (destruction by famine).

This year's National Holodomor Awareness Week will take place November 23-29, 2015. Commemorations will be held at a time when Ukraine and its people are being forced, once again, to defend their dignity and fundamental human rights. As we gather this year, let us pay tribute to the victims of the famine genocide in Ukraine while remembering the reality of the aggressor the Ukrainian people continue to face today. SUSK calls upon its member Ukrainian Students' Organizations to commemorate and raise awareness of the Holodomor at universities across the country. Events may include film screenings, informational exhibits/displays, lectures, seminars, and memorial events.

On our website, you can find information from the Ukrainian Canadian Congress National Holodomor Awareness Committee, including useful resources for hosting Holodomor-related events, such as personal stories from Holodomor survivors, instructions for black flag installations, and lists of victims' names for readings:
